PREFACE

This is the eighteenth edition of the California Statistical Abstract, a compilation of data on social, political, economic and physical aspects of the State. The 1977 Abstract has been designed as an update to the 1970 historical volume and the 1971, 1972, 1973, 1974, 1975 and 1976 Abstracts, and as such shows only data for later years, or data which have been revised since the previous edition. Future editions of the California Statistical Abstract will follow this format, presenting only updating material. Each table in this edition indicates where comparable data may be found in the 1976 Abstract.

The volume is a cooperative effort of various state agencies and several private organizations, noted in the Appendix. Material is edited by the California Department of Finance, Financial Research Section. The Department of Finance welcomes comments on the Abstract and ways in which it may be developed into an even more useful compilation of data on the State.

INTRODUCTION

California covers 158,693 square miles between the 32nd and 42nd parallels north latitude on the Pacific Coast. The State is well known for its temperate climate which has attracted millions of people to the coastal cities. Los Angeles-Long Beach ranks as the second largest metropolitan area in the United States, and San Francisco-Oakland as the sixth. California includes Mount Whitney, the highest peak in the contiguous United States, at 14,495 feet above sea level, and Death Valley, 282 feet below sea level, the lowest point in the Western Hemisphere. The average July maximum temperature ranges from 64 degrees in San Francisco to 107 in Imperial County.

Population—During the century following 1860, California's population approximately doubled five times or once each twenty years. This unusual rate of growth is no longer possible not only because of the very size of the base but also because, in absolute terms, net migration and the number of births have declined substantially. However, during the five-year period since 1971, the annual civilian migration has varied from a low during the first year of 26,000 to an average of 177,000 in the last 2 years. From 1970 to 1976 the increase in total population was 1,494,000 or 7.4 percent. On July 1, 1975 California had a total population of 21,198,000 and on the same date in 1976 the total population was 21,520,000, up 1.5 percent since mid-1975.

Labor force and employment—California's civilian labor force averaged 9,709,000 during 1976, a gain of 329,000, or 3.5 percent, from 1975. Reflecting a strong economic expansion, civilian employment increased by 358,000 to 8,820,000. As a result, unemployment declined to 889,000, or 9.2 percent of the labor force.

Personal income—Personal income of California residents reached $153.9 billion in 1976, 11 percent of total U.S. personal income. Two-thirds of the total was received as wages and salaries. Manufacturing and government are the largest sources of income, accounting for nearly one-half of the total wage and salary disbursements. Following them in importance are the service and trade industries.

Corporate income—Net income of $8.4 billion from California operations was reported by the 177,665 banks and corporations operating in the State during 1975. Manufacturing industries accounted for approximately 40 percent of the total.

Manufacturing—California has the second largest manufacturing complex in the Nation. According to the 1972 Annual Survey of Manufacturers, value added during that year amounted to $31.4 billion. The State's aerospace industry is the largest in the U.S., and claims approximately 21 percent of all defense contracts, in addition to substantial production for the civilian sector.

Agriculture—California continues to be the Nation's leading agricultural producer. Cash receipts received by California farmers during 1975 totaled $8.5 billion. Sales of all crops were an estimated $5.7 billion, and livestock products earned $2.8 billion.

Metropolitan areas—Much of the data in the Abstract are reported for the 17 Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas (SMSA's) in the State. The table below summarizes the counties in each area. In addition, the map on page IX shows the areas graphically.

Metropolitan area	County
Anaheim-Santa Ana-Garden Grove	Orange
Bakersfield	Kern
Fresno	Fresno
Los Angeles-Long Beach	Los Angeles
Modesto	Stanislaus
Oxnard-Simi Valley-Ventura	Ventura
Riverside-San Bernardino-Ontario	San Bernardino and Riverside
Sacramento	Placer, Sacramento and Yolo
Salinas-Seaside-Monterey	Monterey
San Diego	San Diego
San Francisco-Oakland	Alameda, Contra Costa, Marin, San Francisco, and San Mateo
San Jose	Santa Clara
Santa Barbara-Santa Maria-Lompoc	Santa Barbara
Santa Cruz	Santa Cruz
Santa Rosa	Sonoma
Stockton	San Joaquin
Vallejo-Fairfield-Napa	Napa and Solano

The metropolitan areas cover 44.8 percent of the State's area, and include nearly 92 percent of the population.

AREA, GEOGRAPHY AND CLIMATE

This section summarizes data relating to the land and water areas of the State, temperature and precipitation. The basic sources of these data are the federal agencies responsible for surveying and mapping the United States and for recording its weather. Information on federal and state parks and monuments is reported by various government agencies.

The introduction to Section G, Resource Industries, also includes a generalized description of precipitation in California during the water year 1975–76.

POPULATION

The tables in this section summarize available data on the population of the State of California, its counties and cities. Comparisons of California's population with the totals for the Pacific Division and the Nation are also shown.

All figures on the total population of California for April 1, 1960, and April 1, 1970, are from publications of the United States Bureau of the Census, and represent decennial census counts. All estimates of the civilian population and estimates of the total population for the years after 1960 were prepared by the Department of Finance and are based on the analysis of components of population change summarized in Table B-1. Data used in the preparation of these estimates have been obtained from the Vital Statistics Section, Department of Health; the Bureau of School Apportionments and Reports, Department of Education; the State Selective Service System; the Immigration and Naturalization Service; the United States Department of Defense; the Department of Motor Vehicles; and the United States Bureau of the Census. Corrections made by the Bureau to the populations of California counties are reflected in Table B-5.

The Department of Finance publishes annual reports on the state's population, presenting additional material which includes current estimates of the state and county populations.

Occasional reports of California's population composition and population projections are published as data become available.

LABOR FORCE AND EMPLOYMENT

This section presents statistics relating to the civilian labor force of California, including employment, unemployment, hours of work, earnings, apprenticeship, work injuries, union membership, and work stoppages. Employment covered under the Unemployment Insurance provisions of the California Unemployment Insurance Code is regularly reported in California Employment and Payrolls, published quarterly by the Employment Development Department. Agricultural employment covered only for purposes of Disability Insurance is regularly reported in California Employment and Payrolls in Agricultural Labor, also published quarterly by the Employment Development Department. Current data on the civilian labor force, civilian employment and unemployment are published monthly in California Labor Market Bulletin, issued by the Employment Development Department. The Employment Development Department also publishes monthly data on nonagricultural employment, average hours worked and average earnings in the California Labor Market Bulletin Statistical Supplement. The Division of Labor Statistics in the Department of Industrial Relations publishes quarterly statistics on work injuries under workers' compensation in Occupational Injuries and Illnesses in California and a detailed annual summary in California Work Injuries and Illnesses; occupational injury and illness incidence rates in the annual Occupational Injuries and Illnesses Survey; union membership data biennially in Union Labor in California; annual data on work stoppages in Work Stoppages in California; annual data on wage settlements in Wage Settlements, California Union Agreements; and information about collective bargaining practices and other industrial relations data in California Industrial Relations Reports, issued once or twice a year. The Division of Apprenticeship Standards in the Department of Industrial Relations publishes annual statistics on apprentices in Characteristics of Registered Apprentices in California.

The procedures used by the Employment Development Department for estimating civilian labor force, employment, and unemployment are supplied by the U.S. Department of Labor in order to bring state and local estimating methods into closer agreement with the procedures used to develop national figures. Estimates of California's labor force are tied to levels indicated for the State by the Current Population Surveys (CPS), a national survey of 50,000 households with 5,000 respondents in California. Labor force estimates for the State's six largest Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas (Los Angeles-Long Beach, San Francisco-Oakland, Anaheim-Santa Ana-Garden Grove, San Diego, San Jose and Riverside-San Bernardino-Ontario) have also been tied to the CPS. Estimates for the remaining areas in the State are not adjusted to the CPS figures, but revisions have been made in the estimating procedures to bring them into closer agreement with concepts used in the national household sample.

The major change in the revised methodology is putting total civilian employment data on a residence basis rather than the prior place of work basis and counting workers with more than one job only once. Previous procedures counted the total number of jobs, thus prior employment data was higher because of multiple jobholders. Labor force data was also changed by the fact that the effects of commuting in and out of an SMSA were eliminated.

Labor Force. The labor force represents the sum of civilian employment and unemployment as defined in the following paragraphs.

Civilian employment. Estimates include all people who did any work for pay or profit during the pay period which includes the 12th of the month, were on a payroll but unable to work during that week because of vacation, illness, trade dispute or taking time off for personal reasons, or worked 15 hours or more without pay in a family-operated enterprise.

Unemployment. Estimates of unemployment are prepared by the California Employment Development Department. A person is reported as unemployed during the survey week if he (or she) did not have a job, but had actively sought work during the last four weeks and was currently available for work. In addition, two groups do not need to engage in specific job-seeking activity to be counted as unemployed. They are: (1) persons waiting to start new jobs within 30 days, and (2) workers waiting to be recalled from layoff. The definition used is comparable with that of the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics in their Current Population Survey. The estimates of unemployment represent the number unemployed during the week which includes the 12th of the month.

Unemployment rate. The unemployment rate represents the number of unemployed as a percent of the civilian labor force, i.e., the sum of the employed and the unemployed. The seasonally adjusted unemployment rate eliminates the influence of regularly recurring seasonal fluctuations which can be ascribed to weather, crop-growing cycles, holidays, vacations, regular industry model changeover periods, and the like, and, therefore, more clearly shows the underlying basic trend of unemployment.

Nonagricultural wage and salary employment. The statistics of nonagricultural wage and salary employment are prepared by the Employment Data and Research Division of the Employment Development Department in cooperation with the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics, and are comparable with national estimates prepared by the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics and with State and area estimates prepared by other states. Excluded are domestic workers, employers, own-account workers, and unpaid family workers as well as agricultural workers. Government employment refers to civilian employees only.

The estimates cover all full- and part-time wage and salary workers (administrative, supervisory, sales, technical, office personnel, and production workers) who worked during, or received pay for, any part of the pay period which includes the 12th of the month. Persons on an establishment payroll who are on paid holidays, paid sick leave, or paid vacations, or who work during a part of a specified pay period are considered employed. Persons the payroll of more than one establishment during the pay period are counted each time reported. On the other hand, persons who are laid off or are on leave without pay, who are on strike for the entire pay period, or who are hired but do not report to work during the pay period are not considered employed. Data for federal defense establishments generally refer to persons who worked on, or received pay for, the last day of the month; for federal nondefense establishments and state and local government, data relate to persons who received pay for any part of the pay period which includes the 12th of the month.

Agricultural employment. Estimates of employment in agriculture—including farmers, wage and salary workers, unpaid family workers, and foreign contract workers—are prepared by the California Employment Development Department.

Earnings and hours. The Employment Data and Research Division of the Employment Development Department complies statistics of earnings and hours in manufacturing and selected nonmanufacturing industry groups in California as a whole and in sixteen major metropolitan areas of the State. These statistics of average weekly earnings, hourly earnings, and hours per week are derived from employment, payroll, and hours information reported by a representative sample of establishments in each industry group.

The averages are based upon data for full- and part-time workers who worked during or received pay for any part of the reported pay period in a given month (usually the week which includes the 12th of the month). Included in average earnings are overtime pay and premium wages for late shift work. Therefore, these data are not wage rates but are averages of gross earnings.

Work injuries and illnesses. The statistics on disabling work injuries and illnesses under workers' compensation are based upon reports of on-the-job injuries which are filed with the Division of Labor Statistics and Research in compliance with the provisions of the California Labor Code. Not covered by the California Workers' Compensation Act are maritime workers, federal employees, and railroad workers in interstate commerce.

The number of fatal work injuries includes (1) deaths for which findings and award decisions are issued by the Workers' Compensation Appeals Board; (2) deaths for which liability is accepted by the insurance carrier or self-insurer without Appeals Board determinations; (3) deaths for which compromise and release agreements are approved by the Appeals Board in which the sole issue is dependency; and (4) deaths for which the amount of compromise settlement either equals or exceeds the commuted value of a findings and award. All other deaths for which compromise and release settlements are approved are excluded from the work fatality statistics.

The occupational injury and illness incidence rates are based upon the results of the annual Occupational Injuries and Illnesses Survey conducted by the Division of Labor Statistics and Research in cooperation with the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics under provisions of the Federal Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970. Figures on occupational injuries and illnesses are collected from a scientifically selected sample of the state's employers.

The statistics of insured payroll and workers' compensation benefits are compiled by the Workers' Compensation Insurance Rating Bureau of California, and are on a policy-year basis. The figures do not include the experience of self-insured private and government employers.

The statistics of payrolls and compensation benefits incurred by private self-insurers are derived from annual reports submitted to the Manager, Self-Insurance Plans, Department of Industrial Relations.

Union membership. California union membership figures are collected by the Division of Labor Statistics and Research by means of a biennial Organized Labor Questionnaire (membership figures were collected annually through 1971).

All unions affiliated with the AFL-CIO or predecessor organizations are included in the membership survey. Unions not affiliated with the AFL-CIO are included if they are known to have written collective bargaining agreements with two or more different employers. Also included are unaffiliated unions with a written collective bargaining agreement with a single employer if the contract covers the employer's operations in more than one location in California and if the union has 1,000 or more members.

Unions of government workers, which do not usually execute written collective bargaining agreements, are included if affiliated with the AFL-CIO. An unaffiliated union of government employees is included only if it has members in other states as well as in California.

Work stoppages. The statistics of work stoppages in California are collected by the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Included are all known strikes and lockouts involving as few as six workers and lasting the equivalent of a full shift or longer. For statistical purposes a strike is defined as a temporary stoppage of work by a group of employees to express a grievance or to enforce a demand; a lockout is a temporary withholding of work from a group of employees by an employer (or group of employers) in order to induce them to accept the employer's terms. Each concerted action is counted as one stoppage, irrespective of the number of unions, employers, or establishments.

The number of workers involved includes all employees in establishments directly involved in a stoppage who are idle for a full shift or longer. Employees in other establishments who are unable to work because of material or service shortages, or for other reasons indirectly connected with the stoppage, are not counted among workers involved. The same worker can be counted more than once in the annual total if he is involved in more than one stoppage during the year. The number of man-days idle is obtained by multiplying the number of workers involved in a stoppage by the number of days or shifts they would normally have worked had there been no stoppage. Allowances are made for fluctuations in the number of workers involved during the period of the stoppage.

Apprentices. Information on the characteristics of registered apprentices in California is collected by the Division of Apprenticeship Standards, Department of Industrial Relations, by means of the California Apprentice Agreement. Each apprentice completes a short questionnaire on the reverse side of the apprentice agreement upon registration in an apprenticeship program which has been approved by the Division of Apprenticeship Standards. The questionnaire contains questions on ethnic origin, age at entry, number of dependents, sex, education, veteran's status, and years of prior work experience. Self-identification is the method used for determining ethnic origin. The Division's annual report, Characteristics of Registered Apprentices in California presents information on all of the factors included on the apprenticeship questionnaire.

[a] Employers not engaged in an exempt activity, who have one or more persons in their employ, and pay wages in excess of $100 during a calendar quarter are subject to the Code. Exempt employment is comprised of interstate railroad employment; self-employed; some Federal, State, and local government employment; domestic services in private homes; persons in the employ of certain nonprofit charitable, education, or religious organizations; persons in the employ of a son, daughter, or spouse; children under 21 employed by a parent; and certain other small groups of workers. Workers in exempt employment may be insured under provisions of the Code if the employer becomes a subject employer through elective coverage.

TABLE C-27

RECORDED OCCUPATIONAL INJURY AND ILLNESS INCIDENCE RATES BY INDUSTRY, CALIFORNIA, 1975

(Note: Data in this table update the series shown in Table C-26 in the 1976 California Statistical Abstract.)

Industry	Incidence rates per 100 full-time workers [a]
	Total recorded cases [b]	Lost workday cases	Nonfatal cases without lost workdays
All industries, including state and local government	9.7	4.2	5.5
Private sector	9.7	3.9	5.7
Agriculture, forestry and fisheries	11.3	4.6	6.6
Mining	13.7	7.1	6.6
Contract construction	18.2	6.9	11.2
Manufacturing	13.0	5.1	7.9
Transportation, communication, electric, gas and sanitary services	10.5	5.5	4.9
Wholesale and retail trade	9.1	3.6	5.4
Finance, insurance and real estate	2.8	1.0	1.7
Services	6.4	2.6	3.8
State and local government	9.6	5.4	4.2

[a] The incidence rates represent the number of injuries and/or illnesses per 100 full-time employees and were calculated as: N/EH × 200,000 where
N = number of injuries and/or illnesses
EH = total hours worked by all employees during calendar 1975
200,000 = base for 100 full-time equivalent workers (working 40 hours per week, 50 weeks per year)

[b] Includes fatalities. Because of rounding, the difference between the total and the sum of the rates for lost workday cases and nonfatal cases without lost workdays may not reflect the fatality rate.

INCOME AND COST-OF-LIVING

This section presents data on business and personal income and the consumer price index.

Business Income

Tables D-2 and D-3 are compiled from corporate income data reported on returns filed with the Franchise Tax Board.

Corporations doing business in California and those having income from California sources but not technically doing business here are subject to the Bank and Corporation Law. Chapter 2 of the law imposes the bank and corporation franchise tax and Chapter 3 the corporation income tax.

The bank and corporation franchise tax is imposed for the privilege of doing business in Caifornia and is based on the amount of net income earned in or allocated to the State in the preceding fiscal or calendar year. A corporation conducting a unitary business both within and without the State applies an allocation factor to its income in order to determine the amount subject to state taxation. The standard allocation formula is the arithmetic average of three factors—the ratio of California sales to total sales, the ratio of California payroll to total payroll, and the ratio of California property to total property. For the period 1935–1958, the minimum franchise tax was $25 a year. For the period 1959–1971, the minimum tax, with limited exceptions, was increased to $100. For 1972, and subsequent years, the minimum tax was increased to $200 per year. Banks are exempt from paying the minimum tax.

The corporation income tax is levied on the net income of corporations which are not doing business in California but which derive income from California sources (primarily foreign companies engaged wholly in interstate commerce and holding companies). They are subject to the basic tax rate, but there is no minimum tax. Data for these corporations have been omitted from Tables D-2 and D-3.

Personal Income

Estimates of personal income received by residents of each state are prepared annually by the Regional Economics Information System, Bureau of Economic Analysis, in the United States Department of Commerce. Data are available, by years and types of income, back to 1929 in Personal Income By States. Totals and details for the most recent years are reported in the August issue of the Survey of Current Business. Quarterly estimates of personal income in California, at annual rates, comparable to the United States Department of Commerce series, are prepared by the State Department of Finance. Copies of this information are available upon request.

An understanding of the conceptual basis of income estimates is essential to the use of these data and it is hoped that users interested in sources of basic information, estimating techniques, definitions, and limitations of these data will consult the Department of Commerce reports mentioned above. Particular note should be taken of the facts that income (1) represents receipts before payment of income taxes and certain non-tax charges, and (2) includes non-monetary income, such as imputed net rental values of owner-occupied homes and payments in kind as well as in cash. As defined, residents include individuals, nonprofit institutions, private trusts, and private pension, health and welfare funds. Nonprofit institutions include religious organizations, clubs, labor organizations, nonprofit schools and hospitals, charitable, welfare, and other private non-profit agencies furnishing services to individuals.

Briefly stated, the following are encompassed in the six categories of income shown here:

Wage and salary disbursements. Monetary remuneration of employees, including commissions, tips, bonuses, etc., and payments in kind.

Other labor income. Employer contributions under private pension, health, welfare and group insurance plans, compensation for injuries, pay of military reservists, directors' fees, etc.

Proprietors' income. Net business earnings of owners of unincorporated enterprises, including farmers and such professional practitioners as doctors, dentists, and lawyers.

Property income. Rental income of persons including royalties on patents, copyrights, and rights to natural resources and imputed net rents), personal interest incomes (including certain imputations), and cash dividends.

Transfer payments. Receipts from government and business for which no service is rendered currently: pensions, unemployment benefits, disability benefits, medicare benefits, direct relief, bad debts absorbed by business establishments, corporate gifts to private nonprofit institutions, etc.

Personal contributions for social insurance. Employee contributions for old age and survivors insurance, unemployment insurance, medicare and public employee retirement systems. Includes similar contributions for such purposes by self-employed individuals. Personal contributions for social insurance are deducted in estimating personal income, since wage and salary disbursements are reported including amounts withheld by employers for this purpose.

The source report shows total and per capita incomes by types and major sources in greater detail than is shown in this Abstract, industrial sources of personal income, total and per capita disposable income (after direct personal taxes and certain nontax payments) and ratios which cannot be reproduced here for reasons of space.

Personal income tax data. Tables D-1 and D-4 represent 1974 income year data, which have been derived from information appearing on personal income tax returns filed in 1975. Personal income tax returns are required of single persons with gross incomes of $7,000 or more or adjusted gross incomes of $3,250 or more and of married persons with gross incomes of $7,000 or more or adjusted gross incomes of $6,500 or more. These filing requirements are for 1968 and subsequent income years. These requirements have been changed periodically.

Personal income tax tables are classified by adjusted gross income class intervals. Adjusted gross income includes salaries and wages (less certain unreimbursed expenses incurred in connection with employment), dividends, interest, annuities, a percentage of net gains or net losses from the sale or exchange of capital assets, gains or losses from the sale or exchange of property other than capital assets, rents and royalties less expenses attributable thereto, gross receipts from business less costs of goods sold and business expenses, and distributive shares of partnership gross income, alimony and separate maintenance payments, pensions, income from life insurance and endowment contracts, income from discharge of indebtedness, income in respect to a decedent, and income from interest in an estate or trust.

Sampling techniques have been used to derive most of the data appearing in the tables presenting the number of personal income tax returns and the amount of adjusted gross income.

Much of the personal income is received by persons who had insufficient amounts of gross income and net income to necessitate their filing state returns or is exempt from state taxation (e.g., dividends on veterans' government insurance, federal and state social security benefits, railroad retirement benefits, workmen's compensation for personal injuries or sickness, interest on federal bonds, etc.). Conversely, there are items of taxable income which are not included in the personal income concept such as gains from sales of assets and alimony. Hence, the data reported on California personal income tax returns are not strictly comparable to those estimates of total personal income reported by the Department of Commerce.

Prices

Tables D-9 and D-10 present the Consumer Price Index for the Los Angeles-Long Beach Metropolitan Area (Los Angeles and Orange counties), the San Francisco-Oakland Metropolitan Area (Alameda, Contra Costa, Marin, San Francisco, San Mateo and Solano counties), the San Diego Metropolitan Area (San Diego County), California, and the United States.

The Index measures the average change in prices of goods and services usually bought by urban wage earners and clerical workers, both families and single persons living alone.

The indexes for Los Angeles-Long Beach, San Francisco-Oakland, San Diego and the United States are compiled by the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Current figures for Pacific Coast areas are published regularly by the Regional Office, United States Bureau of Labor Statistics, San Francisco. The Index for California has been computed by the California Department of Industrial Relations, Division of Labor Statistics and Research, as the weighted average of the Los Angeles-Long Beach, San Francisco-Oakland and San Diego indexes.

Comparisons of indexes for individual areas show only that prices in one location changed more or less than in another. These indexes cannot be used to measure differences in price levels or in living costs between areas.

HEALTH AND WELFARE

Compiled under this broad heading are tables relating to vital statistics and other health; mental hygiene; and social insurance.

Vital Statistics and Other Health Data

This section presents selected statistics relating to health in California, prepared by the State Department of Health.

The sources of data are registration and reporting systems established by law, voluntary reporting systems established with local health agencies, and surveys and special studies conducted or sponsored by the Department. Data from a few of these sources are included.

In interpreting statistics on births, deaths, marriages, divorces and annulments, certain limitations must be recognized. Crude rates for vital events are influenced by age and sex distributions within the populations. Also, the comparability of cause of death data is affected by increasing medical knowledge, changes in classifying disease categories, and changes in international rules for selecting the underlying cause of death.

Data on selected notifiable diseases are obtained from local health authorities. Notification to the local health authority that a case of communicable disease exists within the particular jurisdiction is the first step toward control. These morbidity data are limited by the incompleteness of reporting, the changes made in specific diseases which shall be reported, and by the nature of the incidence of certain diseases in cyclical patterns.

The Department of Health licenses hospitals, nursing homes and related health facilities to insure that standards of patient care are met.

In addition to the sources of the above data, some other sources are described from which data can be obtained on request.

The Environmental Health Services Program in the State Department of Health compiles statistical data through its various regulatory, licensing, inspectional and standard setting activities. Data may be available in the specific areas of Food and Drug, Radiological Health, Water Sanitation, Vector Control and Occupational Health.

The California Tumor Registry collects, evaluates and disseminates information relating to cancer incidence and survival. Data relating to anatomic site, age, sex, race, stage of disease and treatment are used for medical education plus clinical and epidemiological studies. The Registry receives abstracts from 95 hospitals reporting about 32,000 cases per year (about half of the state's total) and has a total of more than 450,000 cases on file.

The Maternal and Child Health Branch collects data to develop and report health indices such as maternal mortality, infant mortality, prematurity, fertility, illegitimacy and abortion rates and family planning. Emphasis is on the identification of high-risk populations and the development and promotion of programs for the detection of conditions for which preventive and therapeutic measures exist.

Laboratory Services provide leadership in the development of laboratory services, standards and applied research to support Department goals, and administer and coordinate the work of all laboratories serving departmental programs.

Most detailed statistical information is published annually in Vital Statistics in California and other series. For definitions used in interpreting statistics relating to vital events, see the California Statistical Abstract 1970, Section E, p. 107.

Rehabilitation of the Disabled

This section presents selected data on the rehabilitation of the disabled persons in California, prepared by the State Department of Rehabilitation.

The primary objective of the Department of Rehabilitation is to rehabilitate the largest possible number of disabled persons and place them into suitable employment. The statewide rehabilitation program provides a variety of services including counseling, medical, training, job placement and follow-up services. The Department has other objectives for disabled persons such as the removal of architectural barriers, support of public and private nonprofit rehabilitation facilities, support of independent living centers for severely disabled persons, and the provision of special training to the blind in mobility, independent living skills, or the operation of vending facilities.

The rehabilitation services provided by the Department are generally financed by 80 percent Federal funds and 20 percent State matching funds. The programs for the rehabilitation of most recipients of Social Security Disability Insurance Benefits and Supplemental Security Income payments are financed by 100 percent Federal Trust and Security Funds. Special cooperative agreements with other state and community agencies provide rehabilitation services to particular target groups. Rehabilitation services to some industrially injured workers are reimbursed by private and public insurance carriers.

During Fiscal Year 1975–76, the Department processed 88,267 new referrals, developed 25,414 individualized rehabilitation programs and rehabilitated 14,522 disabled persons including 995 Social Security Disability Insurance Trust Fund cases, 4,065 public assistance recipients of whom 995 were Supplemental Security Income Security Fund cases.

The rehabilitation of disabled persons results in economic benefits such as government savings in Welfare, Medi-Cal and Social Security costs while increasing Federal, State and Sales Tax revenues generated from the earnings of the rehabilitated disabled persons.

The Federal Rehabilitation Act of 1973 mandates that the severely disabled persons be given priority for services. The Department rehabilitated 6 percent more severely disabled persons in Fiscal Year 1975–76 than in the previous fiscal year. This emphasis of rehabilitating the severely disabled persons will be continued.

The statistics in this section included selected characteristics of the rehabilitated persons; type of disability; caseload by county of referral; type of public assistance; economic and demographic characteristics of rehabilitated persons; and cost benefits for rehabilitating the disabled persons.

Disabilities

The Department provided vocational rehabilitation services to all types of disabilities. The 14,522 rehabilitated persons in Fiscal Year 1975–76 were represented by the following major disabilities: legally blind 3%, other visual impairments 3%, deaf 3%, other hearing impairments 2%, physical disabilities 44%, alcoholism 7%, drug addiction 5%, character or personality disorders 10%, mental retardation 8%, and psychosis or neuroses 15%.

The largest category of disability is the physically disabled which includes individuals with functional limitations resulting from congenital birth defects, illnesses or injuries. The disabilities include orthopedic impairments, amputations, disorders of the nervous system, respiratory, digestive, cardiac and circulatory conditions.

Cooperative Programs

The Department has special cooperative agreements with some school systems, Community Mental Health agencies, the Office of Alcoholism, the Departments of Youth Authority and Corrections and Rancho Los Amigos Hospital to jointly fund programs to provide rehabilitation services to specific population groups. The cooperative agreement with the Departments of Youth Authority and Corrections terminated at the end of Fiscal Year 1975–76. However, the Department will continue to serve those public offenders who meet eligibility requirements.

Advocacy for the Disabled

The Department is actively engaged in the role of advocacy for the disabled people. The Department is involved in the development and enforcement of legislation requiring public buildings to be made accessible to the physically disabled; the renovation of existing buildings to provide ramps, elevators and restroom facilities to accommodate the physically disabled persons; and to prohibit discrimination in the hiring of disabled people regardless of their disabilities. The Department also provides funds for the establishment and expansion of workshop and rehabilitation facilities which provide vocational evaluation or training for disabled persons.

Business Enterprise Program

Through the Business Enterprise Program, the Department provides comprehensive training and supervision to blind persons in the operation of cafeterias, vending stands and snack bars in private or public buildings. New locations for vending or food service are developed by the Business Enterprise Program which also provides general business services. In Fiscal Year 1975–76, there were 313 business locations with gross sales of $19,800,580. The program provides employment for a total of 1,083 people; 313 blind operators, 97 disabled persons and 673 nondisabled persons.

Social Insurance and Welfare

This section presents data relating to State programs providing unemployment and disability insurance, Federal programs administered in California to provide unemployment compensation to veterans and former federal employees and Old-Age, Survivors, and Disability Insurance benefits; federal, state and county programs assisting the aged, the blind, the disabled, and needy children, providing medical care for public assistance recipients, medical assistance and food stamp benefits for the needy; county programs of general relief; and the state, county and private agency program providing adoption services.

There are several principal sources for these data. Current statistics relative to operations are available in the monthly report to the Governor prepared by the Employment Development Department and in monthly reports prepared by the Department of Benefit Payments. Data on public assistance expenditures and recipients and food stamp benefits and recipients are regularly published in Public Welfare in California, issued monthly by the Department of Benefit Payments. Data on medical care recipients and expenditures are published quarterly by the Department of Health in the California Medical Assistance Program, Services and Expenditures Report. Public assistance data are based on reports to the Department of Benefit Payments by the Social Security Administration and county welfare departments. Effective January 1, 1974, the federal government (Social Security Administration) assumed responsibility for the administration of the Supplemental Security Income/State Supplemental Program (SSI/SSP), which integrated and replaced the Old-Age Security (OAS), Aid to the Blind (AB), and Aid to the Permanently and Totally Disabled (ATD) programs. Data for the Food Stamp Program are based on reports to the Department of Benefit Payments by the county welfare departments, and a report evaluating the effectiveness of the program is provided annually to the Legislature by the Department of Benefit Payments." Data for the California Medical Assistance Program are based on claims paid by the fiscal intermediaries and data received from the Department of Health. Data on adoption services are based on reports to the Department of Health by the Department's field staff, and by county welfare departments and private adoption agencies. Since July 1, 1973, the responsibility for the Adoptions Program has been that of the Social Services Division of the Department of Health.

Employment Security. Unemployment insurance and disability insurance activities are reported here from 1950 on. Legislation has modified the coverage, benefits, and services under these programs from time to time, and many uses of the data will require reference to the statutory changes. A detailed description of all changes which substantially affect the figures given here has been published by the Employment Development Department under the title, Summary of Major Changes in Program of Department of Employment, 1935–1968.

Excess Value Home Program. This program relates to financial assistance to aged, blind or disabled persons who meet all the criteria established for the SSI/SSP program, but whose home is valued at greater than $25,000, (no data are available for this edition of the Abstract). EVH is a 100% state funded program administered through the 58 counties which provides for benefit levels equal to those established for SSI/SSP recipients. The income, resource, and residence requirements for EVH are identical to those of SSI/SSP. This program ended December 31, 1976 because of federal regulation exempting the value of the home in SSI/SSP.

Aid to Potentially Self-supporting Blind. These figures describe financial assistance and medical care for persons who are blind and receiving support payments but are working on a plan for self-support. The program is 100 percent state funded, and benefit levels are the same as for blind recipients under SSI/SSP.

Within limitations, recipients may own real property and keep additional real or personal property for future needs and own additional property if the property will further his self-support plan. Recipients must be at least 16 years of age and residents of California.

Aid to Families with Dependent Children. The data relate to financial assistance for children under 21 years of age who are residents of California and in need because of the death, continuous absence, incapacity, or unemployment of a parent. In general, the ceilings on financial resources are $1,600 value of personal property, less encumbrances, and $5,000 assessed valuation of real property, less encumbrances of record. Assistance is available for children living in foster homes as well as for children living with their parent(s) or relatives.

Food Stamps. Statistics under this caption relate to assistance to low income households to improve their nutrition. Households purchase food stamps which are discounted or free, based on the household's income. The amount of food stamps which a household may purchase is based on family size. To be eligible, households must meet federal (USDA) income and resource standards, be county residents and in most cases, have cooking facilities. Households in which all members are AFDC or federally approved GR recipients are eligible without regard to income or resources.

General Relief. Data on this subject relate to assistance to needy persons not eligible under state subvented assistance programs listed above. It is administered and financed entirely by counties. Eligibility requirements and standards of assistance vary from county to county.

Services provided by these programs include studies of the suitability of adoptive homes, the suitability of children for adoption, and recommendations to the courts on granting adoption petitions. When a child is placed in an adoptive home by an adoption agency, either public or private, it is called a "relinquishment" adoption. When a child is placed directly by the parent, it is called an "independent" adoption. Foreign-born children—mostly orphaned Korean or Vietnamese—are placed in California homes under the Intercountry adoptions Program.

Mental Health

This section presents statistics on the major programs supported either directly or indirectly by the State of California for the care and treatment of persons with mental, emotional, and developmental disorders. Some of these programs are maintained and administered by the State Department of Health; other community-oriented programs are locally administered but receive most of their financial support from the State.

As of June 30, 1977, the State Department of Health maintained 11 hospitals statewide—two entirely for the mentally disabled, five that were totally for the developmentally disabled, and four that had programs for both categories of mental patients.

More detailed information on the subjects covered by the following tables and other services in the field of mental health is available in periodic and special reports issued by the Department of Health. Additional statistical data on mental-hygiene facilities and activities outside the Department are available at the community level in periodic reports issued by county health departments, and at the national level in reports issued by the National Clearing House for Mental Health Statistics of the National Institute of Mental Health.

It should be understood that the prevalence of treated mental disorder cannot be measured by the statistics in the following tables, since these data are limited to facilities either operated by or subsidized through the Department. Treatment is also offered by licensed private mental institutions, by locally-operated nonprofit outpatient psychiatric clinics, by general hospitals with psychiatric wards, by hospitals of the United States Veterans Administration, by public school systems with special classes (particularly for children with mild or moderate mental retardation), and by the large number of mental-health specialists in private practice throughout the State.

Hospitals for the mentally disabled. The marked reduction in the mentally ill population of the state hospitals (from a maximum of 37,491 in 1959 to 5,691 on June 30, 1977), made possible the closing of all but six hospitals for such patients, with only two of the six devoted entirely to the mentally disabled. The ratio of hospital population to general population has shown an even greater decrease, from a maximum of 333 per 100,000 state population in 1940 to 110 per 100,000 in 1977.

Many factors have contributed to this trend, which is occurring throughout the nation. These include more ward space per patient, a higher ratio of ward personnel to patients, training programs for ward personnel, the introduction of psychotropic drugs in the 1950's, the availability of federal funds for nursing home care of harmless senile patients, and the marked expansion of state-funded mental health programs at the community level since the early 1960's.

The majority of patients now enter these hospitals voluntarily. This is a change from earlier years when the majority of admissions were on an involuntary basis (primarily by civil commitment for mental illness or for alcoholism). Since July 1, 1969, under provisions of the Lanterman-Petris-Short legislation, patients may no longer be court-committed for indeterminate periods, but enter either voluntarily or if involuntary for a 72-hour evaluation and treatment period. If a patient evaluated is found to be a danger to others or to himself or is gravely disabled and will not voluntarily consent to treatment he may be certified for an additional 14 days of intensive treatment.

The evaluation or screening of patients for hospitalization under this new legislation is the responsibility of the county, and may be done either in a county facility or in a state hospital designated by the county. In like manner, treatment may be given either at a local facility or at a state hospital.

Involuntary patients leave the hospital at the termination of the period specified in the law or earlier if appropriate in the judgment of the medical director of the hospital. Voluntary patients may leave the hospital at any time on notice to the hospital staff. Hospitalization ranges from a few days for the treatment of an acute transitory episode to several years for a patient with severe chronic mental illness. The median length of stay prior to discharge is about two weeks.

Post treatment of ex-patients of state hospitals is now the responsibility of the referring county. Often the county will contract with the Community Services Section, State Department of Health, for this service.

Departures without staff permission by involuntary patients are classified as unauthorized absences. In most instances the patient returns to the hospital; however, the case may be continued under community supervision or closed by discharge.

For many patients the case is closed by direct discharge at the time the patient is released from the hospital. Cases closed by death in the hospital are not included with discharges, but are separately categorized.

The developmentally disabled. A developmentally disabled person is considered eligible for admission only if the parent or guardian, the regional center and the hospital medical staff agree that the hospitalization is best for the patient and for his family. Following the determination of eligibility, admission may be delayed briefly to accommodate the wishes of the patient or family.

The reduction in the mentally disabled hospital population has made it possible to convert several thousand beds to the care of developmentally disabled patients transferred from the four major hospitals for the developmentally disabled. This has reduced these hospitals' population from 11,190 in 1961 to 7,133 patients in 1975. The total hospital population of developmentally disabled is currently 9,684.

Community mental health services. As a result of a two-year legislative interim study on mental illness in California, a new Short-Doyle Act and the Lanterman-Petris-Short Act became law in 1968 and effective July 1, 1969. These two laws were combined into the Community Mental Health Services Act, and changed mental health program requirements for state-subsidized, locally operated mental health programs and also revised California's admission procedures.

The 1969 Short-Doyle Act mandated a county-operated community mental health service in each county with over 100,000 population. Each such program requires the preparation of a county plan specifying the services to be furnished. All mental health care services are to be provided by a single integrated system which is under the general supervision of the county mental health program director. The Act defines ten reimbursable services: inpatient care, outpatient care, partial hospitalization, emergency intervention, diagnosis, rehabilitation, precare and aftercare, training, research, and program evaluation. This plan must be prepared annually, adopted by the county government, and reviewed by the Director of Health. This plan is also the basis of 90 percent reimbursement of costs by the State. The law also establishes a 15-member Citizens Advisory Council to advise and assist the Director of Health, and also provides for the establishment of a 14-member county mental health advisory board in each county.

By 1972, all of California's 58 counties had established mental health programs under the Short-Doyle program, which was originally enacted in 1957. This program of State assistance enables cities and counties to provide timely mental health care within the local community with a minimum of disruption of the day-to-day life of the patient.

During the fiscal year 1973–74 there were more than 24,193 entries to partial day services, 66,139 entries to 24 hour care services, and 297,141 entries to outpatient. The rapid growth of Short-Doyle services is evidenced by the fact that each of those totals is at least eight times the number for 1962–63. These data exclude local drug and local alcohol program utilization.

The Lanterman-Petris-Short Act. This landmark legislation, which became effective July 1, 1969, defines the course of involuntary care and treatment of certain mentally disordered persons. This new law allows the involuntary treatment of chronic alcoholics and those who are gravely disabled or dangerous to themselves or others. It provides for judicial review, at any time, of any person who is held involuntarily. Certain legal and civil rights are also guaranteed to all mental patients. In addition, a conservatorship procedure is specified for patients who are gravely disabled by a mental disorder or impaired as a result of chronic alcoholism.

[a] General Home Relief is that form of General Relief given to persons in their home to meet one or more of the basic subsistence items of food, shelter or clothing. The definition GHR includes residents who are residing in the county. It does not include transients since they are by definition persons who are not residing in the county.

[b] Usual low month.

[c] Usual high month.

[d] General Relief program is that program administered by the County Welfare Department which provides financial assistance to needy persons from county funds only (i.e., financial assistance for which there is no reimbursement from state or federal funds).

EDUCATION

This section smmarizes data relating to public and private education in California, both at the elementary and high school levels (kindergarten through grade 12) and at the collegiate levels (community colleges and universities or state colleges). The California State Department of Education has responsibility for accumulating and reporting data on public and private school activities for kindergarten through grade 12; the State Department of Finance has responsibility for higher education statistics.

Enrollment. This figure represents the number of students registered at a specific point in time during the school year, the fourth week of the fall semester.

Average Daily Attendance. This is the figure that describes the attendance according to type of public school districts. Unified school districts consist of all grades K–12, elementary districts generally are grades K–8 and high school districts are grades 9–12 or 7–12 if the district operates a junior high level. As contrasted with enrollment, these figures are averages of attendance over a full fiscal year.

Current Expense of Education. The figures in the table include expenditures made by unified, elementary, and high school districts from (1) local funds, derived chiefly from property taxes, (2) funds apportioned to the districts by the State, based primarily on average daily attendance and assessed valuation of property in the district, and (3) Federal funds. They are known as "general fund" expenditures, but do not include expenditures for food services, community services, facility acquisition and construction or capital outlay. Special funds, such as building funds, bond interest and redemption funds, etc., are also excluded.

State Apportionments. These amounts for elementary (grades K–8) and high school (grades 9–12) education include a basic amount for average daily attendance plus an "equalization" amount based on assessed valuation of each district. County school service fund amounts are for the county superintendents of schools to enable them to provide services to districts and hold special schools and classes for exceptional students. Special apportionments are those made to local educational units for special education of handicapped students, transportation of students, driver education, educational television, special reading programs, etc.

Certificated Personnel. These figures are the total of full-time certificated personnel in public, elementary and high school levels (including unified districts), exclusive of substitute or other part-time teachers. Non-teaching personnel (who are also certificated) are such staff members as counselors, librarians, psychologists, nurses, deans and other administrators.

Revenues for Public School Support. These figures indicate the total revenues available for public school support in grades K–12 for the fiscal year and the sources and amounts that comprise the total.

RESOURCE INDUSTRIES

This section presents data relating to five of the basic resources of California: water, agriculture, forestry, fishing and mining. The descriptive section below includes a brief summary of the series covered and sources for additional information.

Water

Tables G-1 to G-15 present summary information describing the uses to which land is put in California, the land area receiving water service, and the distribution of the available water supply of the State. Whenever possible, the information is given by hydrologic study areas, which have been outlined in the plate on page x.

California's water supply, including its share of interstate waters, is generally ample to meet the State's present and foreseeable needs. However, meeting these needs requires a large-scale transport of water between the northern and southern parts of the State. In a major effort to implement this transport, the Legislature and the voters of California in 1960 authorized the construction and financing of the California State Water Project. This project will compliment the extensive water development in California by the Federal Government and by local water agencies.

The California State Water Project will provide for the delivery of approximately 4,230,000 acre-feet annually to water service agencies from Plumas County to the Mexican border. Construction on the project commenced in 1957 with funds appropriated by the Legislature from the State Water Fund. The initial facilities are essentially complete. The dedication of the southernmost facility, Perris Dam in Riverside County, was held May 18, 1973.

The great majority of the financing of the California State Water Project was provided for by the authorization of general obligation bonds in the amount of $1.75 billion, of which $1.56 billion have been marketed. In addition, over $384 million in revenue bonds have been sold. Project revenues are anticipated to be fully adequate to repay the reimbursable costs of the project. In 1975 water revenues were over $107 million and power revenues were over $16 million.

Planning studies are currently in progress by the California Department of Water Resources and other water agencies to define additional works necessary to meet water demands beyond the year 1990. The scope of studies has been expanded to place greater emphasis on the emerging concern for social and environmental considerations, and the impact of water resource development and management on the environment. Increased emphasis is also being placed on studies of non-traditional sources of water, such as desalination, use of reclaimed water, and weather modification.

Water Conditions in California, 1975–1976

Precipitation

California experienced below-normal precipitation nearly everywhere. The most fortunate areas received 80 to 90 percent of normal rainfall, including the north coast, the San Joaquin Valley near Tulare Lakebed, and some of the mountains of Southern California. Of particular note is the very deficient area in the center of the State, encompassing the coastal area from below Monterey, through San Francisco, to above Jenner in Sonoma County, and extending inland to include most of the Sacramento Valley, the northern portion of the San Joaquin Valley to Merced, and the adjacent western front of the Sierra Nevada.

April precipitation in California averaged about normal for the State as a whole. The north coast had about 120 percent of normal; San Diego, about 163 percent of normal; and Merced in the San Joaquin Valley, 140 percent of normal. The dry mid-State swath through San Francisco and Sacramento varied from 70 to 95 percent of normal.

The cause of the precipitation deficiency was the persistence, since early November 1975, of a ridge of high atmospheric pressure near the west coast, with above-normal pressures in the surrounding area, including California. This year's weather fronts, which normally bring the winter rains to the State, were either so weakened by the high pressure that moisture was lacking in the weak fronts which entered California, or the fronts which formed over the Pacific Ocean were shunted north toward the State of Oregon or even farther.

Snow Accumulation

Snow accumulation was less than 50 percent of normal on February 1, 1976, after the low precipitation in November, December, and January. February did not break the winter drought, and on March 1 snowpack water content was about one-half the normal seasonal accumulation.

Water supply conditions deteriorated further as March became the fourth month of below-average snow accumulation. By April 1, snowpack water content was the lowest of record at about one-third of the State's snow courses.

The snowpack on May 1 throughout the State was well below normal, and in the Sierra Nevada watersheds the melting cycle was expected to be completed early. May 1 snow surveys showed that 68 of the 222 snow course measured that month were already bare. Water content of the snow was only 40 percent of normal in the Sacramento Valley watershed and 25 percent of normal in the San Joaquin Valley watershed. Satellite imagery supplied by NASA indicated the effective snow line on May 1 averaged 8,300 feet (2 530 metres), and that the snow-covered area in the San Joaquin, Kings, Kaweah, Tulare, and Kern River Basins was 2,000 square miles (5 200 square kilometres) this year, compared to 3,650 square miles (9 500 square kilometres) of snow-covered area on May 1 last year.

Ground Water Levels

In the North Coastal Area of California, all ground water levels this year are lower than those in the spring of 1975 and, in some cases, are even lower than those in the fall of 1975. Near the coast, ground water levels, compared to the spring of 1975, are down about 1 foot (0.3 metre); inland basins are down as much as 2.5 feet (0.8 metre). In the northeastern portion of the State, ground water levels are lower this spring than in the spring of 1975 by about 1.5 feet (0.5 metre). In Lassen County, three dug wells, each less than 50 feet (15 metres) deep are already dry. Deeper wells, whose water levels are near last fall's water levels, are experiencing lower yields. Average water levels in Honey Lake are about 2 feet (0.6 metre) lower than in spring 1975.

In the Sacramento Valley, including the Redding Basin, average ground water levels are down about 6 feet (1.8 metres) with the west side suffering a greater drop than those on the east side. Butte and Sutter County water levels are down about 5 feet (1.5 metres) from last spring. Water levels on the average are 6 feet (1.6 metres) lower in Yuba County, 4 feet (1.2 metres) lower in San Joaquin and Solano Counties, and 3 feet (0.9 metre) lower in Sacramento and Placer Counties. In Yolo County, where the average spring level was 7 feet (2.1 metres) lower than in the previous spring, some wells in April were already reflecting levels normally expected in midsummer.

In the San Francisco Bay area, water levels have also declined. In Santa Clara County, the average drop was 15 feet (4.6 metres) and wells in the southern part of the county were down more than 30 feet (9.1 metres). The level in the Russian River area indicated a decline of about 4 feet (1.2 metres) and Livermore Valley wells were down 2 feet (0.6 metre).

In the San Joaquin Valley, ground water levels have declined gradually for several years from the Chowchilla River area southward to the Tehachapi mountains, except in a very few areas. This trend levels out during years of heavy runoff and might even show a rise for a few years; however, the trend has been downward over a long period.

Along the west side of Fresno County, since State Project water has been available, the ground water levels have shown a considerable rise in the confined aquifer due to decreased pumping. Water levels from the spring of 1975 to the spring of 1976 from the Chowchilla River south (except in the Mendota-Huron area) show a drop ranging from 2.0 feet (0.6 metre) to 23 feet (7.0 metres) in 15 of 20 basins or areas that were measured. Shafter-Wasco Irrigation District showed the greatest decline, 23 feet (7.0 metres); the Madera, Kaweah Delta, Tulare, and Lower Tule areas show declines of 7 to 8 feet (2.1 to 2.4 metres); and Pleasant Valley, 10 feet (3.0 metres). Other areas showed a slightly smaller decline. Four areas showed a very slight rise from 1 to 3 feet (0.3 to 0.9 metres). It is reported that in a few wells in the Chowchilla area the water level has dropped as much as 25 feet (7.3 metres), and some pumps have lost suction.

In the Salinas Valley, ground water levels have declined about 6 feet (1.8 metres) from March 1975 to March 1976.

Surface Runoff

Except for October, 1975, the start of the water year, streamflows throughout the State have been below normal. By January 1976, some records for low flows were beginning to be established, such as the January runoff of 12 percent of normal for the Stanislaus River. Several small coastal streams had only 5 percent of usual January flow. Hardest hit were streams in the area from Monterey to Jenner along the coast. As of February 1, 1976, water year runoff varied from 5 percent of normal in the Bay area to 125 percent of normal in the West Walker River, with most Central Valley streams producing about 60 percent of normal.

Runoff during April was about 45 percent of normal, ranging from less than 10 percent of normal in San Francisco Bay area streams to a high of 60 percent of normal for the North Coastal area streams. In the Central Valley, runoff was 38 percent of normal, with only the Sacramento River exceeding 50 percent of normal for the month. Runoff since October 1, 1975, has averaged 45 percent of normal in the Central Valley.

Reservoir Storage

Most reservoirs were near their seasonal high on May 1, since much of the snowmelt had already occurred and deliveries of water to users had begun. The Central Valley reservoirs were 83 percent of normal, the San Joaquin Valley reservoirs were 95 percent of normal, and the Sacramento Valley reservoirs were 77 percent of normal.

Much information on water resources and utilization is available in the several publications of the Department of Water Resources quoted as sources for many of the tables included in this section. In addition, a large amount of specific information is included in reports of other general and special investigations by the Department. A price list of publications in print is available upon request to the Department of Water Resources.

Agriculture

California, which is the third largest state in the continental United States, with a land area of 100.2 million acres, had 64,000 farms and 36.0 million acres in farmland in 1976. Some 200 crops are recognized in California, including seeds, flowers, and ornamentals, with California leading the nation in the production of 44 commercial crop and livestock commodities. California's agriculture is unique in that a wide range of commodities are produced with no one crop dominating the State's agricultural economy.

California farmers and ranchers marketed $8.9 billion of agricultural crop and livestock products during 1976—up 5 percent from 1975 and 2 percent above 1974's previous record high of $8.7 billion. The leading commodities in increased cash receipts were cotton and hay, while processing tomatoes recorded the largest decline.

The value of marketings from cattle and calves in 1976 was the largest of any California product with $1,101 million, followed by milk and cream ($1,089 million), cotton lint and cottonseed ($974 million), hay ($559 million), grapes ($527 million), eggs ($399 million), and lettuce ($325 million).

California's harvested farm production in 1976 was 49.2 million tons, down 5 percent from the previous high of 51.7 recorded in 1975. Fruit and nut production declined 6 percent, while vegetable production declined 8 percent. Partially offsetting these decreases was a 2 percent increase in field crop production. The 1976 reduced crop production was composed of 29.0 million tons of field crops, 11.0 million tons of vegetables, and 9.2 million tons of fruits and nuts.

The combined acreage of principal crops in 1976 totaled 9.1 million acres, about the same as harvested in 1975. Field crops acreage remained about the same as 1975 at 6.6 million acres. Vegetable acreage dropped 98,290 acres from 1975 with most of the decline in processing tomatoes. Fruit and nut bearing acreage increased to 1,649,960 acres in 1976 from 1,582,190 in 1975. The largest increases in bearing acreage were grapes, up 47,540 acres and almonds up 11,370 acres.

California's livestock industry had a record high level of gross cash receipts at $2,941 million. The largest receipt increase for a livestock item was recorded by milk and cream, up $91 million to $1,089 million in 1976. Increases were also recorded for eggs, broilers and chickens, and sheep and lambs. The market value of cattle and calves remained about the same as a year earlier. There were 4.8 million cattle and calves on California farms and ranches on January 1, 1977—5 percent less than the previous year. The number of beef cows decreased 2 percent, while dairy cows was virtually unchanged.

The average California farm was estimated at 563 acres in 1976, and valued at $367,797 including buildings. The average value of California farmlands ranged from $240 per acre for rangeland in the central coast region to $6,156 per acre for orchards and groves in southern California.

Fresno County is the leading county in agriculture in both California and the nation with a gross value of $1,170,800,000. The other nine leading counties in California are: Kern ($873,655,800), Tulare ($726,938,000), Imperial ($520,716,000), Riverside ($492,900,400), San Joaquin ($481,307,130), Merced ($465,711,500), Monterey ($453,545,421), Stanislaus ($424,884,660), and Kings ($403,002,100).

Other Statistics. Agricultural data presented in this section, with the exception of the United States Census data, are official estimates of the California Department of Food and Agriculture. Current estimates are available in greater detail in reports issued by the Bureau of Agricultural Statistics. Data for many agricultural commodities are available for varying numbers of years preceding those shown in the tables.

Forestry

The forestry resources of California are becoming increasingly important in response to unprecedented demands for wood products, water, and outdoor recreation. The State contains 42.4 million acres of forestland, ranking first in the continental United States. These lands provide forest products, water, and recreational opportunities which satisfy most of the internal demands within the State and a significant share of the national requirements. There are approximately 16.8 million acres of commercial forestland in the State. California ranks third in the United States in terms of volume of standing timber (278 billion board feet) behind Oregon and Washington. The forest products industry is one of the most important enterprises of the State and represents a significant share of such activities on a national scale. Water and outdoor recreation derived from forestlands are essential to the economy of the State.

Wood products have become increasingly important as other resources are depleted. The production of wood products is based on a renewable resource. Under proper management, growing, harvesting and processing timber crops involves minimal environmental impact. This contrasts with the production of alternative materials which often require high energy inputs and result in unavoidable environmental degradation and the depletion of nonrenewable resources. Through intensive forest management, a continuing supply of forest products can be assured to meet increasing demands. Important secondary benefits include protection of the environment, conservation of nonrenewable resources, protection of watersheds, and the enhancement of outdoor recreational opportunities.

Approximately 14 percent of the United States lumber production, 6 percent of the softwood plywood production, and a substantial quantity of other wood products are manufactured in California. The State ranks third in plywood manufacture and second in lumber production. In 1974, it was estimated that California ranked first in value of forest products sold and first in the number employed in the timber industry with 87,300 employees. Within California, there are approximately 1,280 timber operators; 176 sawmills; 25 veneer and plywood plants; 18 wood pulp, particle board, and hardboard plants, and many secondary wood using industries, e.g., planing mills, furniture factories, container plants, etc. In 1972, the value added by manufacture of forest products in the lumber and wood products and paper and allied products industries in California totaled 1,129 billion dollars.

More detailed data can be obtained in California Forest Industries—Prospects for the Future (Portland, 1970) by Daniel Oswald, published by Pacific Northwest Forest and Range Experiment Station, and A Century of Lumber Production in California and Nevada (Berkeley, 1953) published by Pacific Southwest Forest and Range Experiment Station of U.S. Forest Service. See also Production of California Timber Operators in 1975 (Sacramento, 1976) of the California Division of Forestry and various U.S. Bureau of Census reports cited in the tables.

The Economic Importance of Timber in the United States (Washington, D.C., 1963), published by the U.S. Forest Service, contains estimates of value added and employment for timber-based economic activities. Economic Development Prospects for the Commercial Forest Resources and Forest Products Industries of California (Berkeley, 1963), a Report to the State Office of Planning, published by the University of California School of Forestry, details information on the forest resource and related industries including regional breakdowns of ownership, production, and resource data.

Forest Statistics for the United States, by State and Region, 1970 (Washington, D.C., 1972), published by the U.S. Forest Service, lists statistics on California's timber industries.

California Forest Industries—Wood Consumption 1972—James A. Howard (Portland, Oregon 1974) includes detailed information on the primary wood processing plants in California including production and use of residue.

Mining

These tables present summary statistics of the production, use and value of mineral materials in California, compiled by the U.S. Bureau of Mines and the Division of Oil and Gas, California Department of Conservation. Some county figures are available from these agencies, and the Division of Mines and Geology.

The monthly publication, California Geology (formerly Mineral Information Service), provides information on geology and mineral resources in California, the usefulness of minerals and rocks, mineral discoveries and operations.

In addition, the Division of Mines and Geology issues mineral bulletins, special geologic reports, county mineral reports, and geologic and mineral maps. The most recent edition of Mineral Resources of California was released in 1966 as Bulletin 191. It gives information on the geologic occurrence, economic development, and utilization of the State's mineral resources; price $2. Statistics of mineral operations in California will also be found in the reports of the U.S. Bureau of Mines and the Census Bureau.

Detailed statistics on petroleum and natural gas production are published by the Division of Oil and Gas in the Annual Report of the State Oil and Gas Supervisor, and the monthly Oil and Gas Production Report, both free.

EXPLANATORY NOTE: This list of 99 major dams in California includes only those which are over 190 feet high or have reservoirs of at least 100,000 acre-feet capacity. There are more than 1,000 dams within the safety jurisdiction of the State, which is exercised over dams which are 25 feet or more high storing more than 15 acre-feet of water, or, which are more than 6 feet high storing at least 50 acre-feet. Federally operated dams, 26 of which are listed here, are exempt from state safety supervision.

The "height" listed is the vertical distance from the crest of the dam to the original streambed at the downstream toe of the dam.

[a] For summer onions, production includes some quantities not marketed because of shrinkage and loss, which are excluded in computing values.

[b] For processing crops or dual fresh market-processing crops, price is based upon equivalent returns at the processing plant door. For fresh market crops, price is on a packed and loaded basis, f.o.b. shipping point except garlic which is f.o.b. roadside.

[a] Year of bloom is the earlier of the two years designated.
[b] Total production includes culls, canning diversion, and economic abandonment—not used in computing total value.
[c] Price and value estimates for citrus fruit are based on equivalent packinghouse door returns. Price and value estimates for noncitrus fruit and nuts are based on equivalent returns at the processing plant door for "processing" utilization and returns at first delivery point for "fresh market" utilization.
[d] Does not include an estimated 40,000 tons of raisin and raisin material (180,000 tons fresh equivalent) lost due to weather.

[a] Includes 351,814 barrels of plant condensate (cumulative production: 46,774,392).
[b] Also produced 3,105 barrels of condensate from gas fields (cumulative production: 237,250 barrels—revised figure).
[c] Also produced 10,446 barrels of condensate from gas fields (cumulative production: 95,248 barrels).
[d] Also produced 7,157 barrels of condensate from gas fields (cumulative production: 703,063 barrels).
[e] Also produced 647 barrels of condensate from gas fields (cumulative production: 659 barrels).
[f] Also produced 27,785 barrels of condensate from gas fields (cumulative production: 4,516,447 barrels).
[g] Also produced 73,570 barrels of condensate from gas fields (cumulative production: 1,821,865 barrels).
[h] Cumulative condensate production: 935 barrels.

MANUFACTURING

This section presents data on manufacturing industries summarized from the U.S. Census of Manufactures and the annual surveys conducted by the U.S. Bureau of the Census. Detailed information for individual industries and local areas is available in the published reports of the Bureau of the Census.

All employees—Includes all full-time and part-time employees on the payroll of the operating establishment. The all employees number represents the average number of production workers employed for the payroll period ended nearest the 12th of March, May, August, and November plus all other employees for the payroll period ended nearest the 12th of March.

Payroll—Includes salaries, wages, commissions, bonuses, vacation pay, and other remuneration paid during the year to all employees of the establishment. Payroll is reported before deductions for Social Security, income tax, group insurance, union dues, etc.

Production workers—Includes workers engaged in fabricating, processing, assembling, inspection, receiving storage, handling, packing, warehousing, shipping (but not delivering), maintenance, repair, janitorial, watchman services, product development, auxiliary production for plants' own use (e.g., power plant), record keeping, and other services closely associated with production operations. Supervisory employees above the working foreman level are excluded from this category.

Wages—Payroll paid to production workers.

Value added by manufacture—Derived by subtracting the cost of raw materials, parts and components, supplies, fuels, purchased electricity, goods purchased for resale, and contract work from the value of shipments of manufacturing establishments in each industry and adjusting for the net change in finished goods and work-in-process inventory between the beginning and end of the year plus the value added in merchandising activities of manufacturing establishments.

New capital expenditures—Includes, for all manufacturing plants in operation and under construction: expenditures for new structures and additions (including major alterations, capitalized repairs, and improvements) to the manufacturing plant, whether on contract or by the plant's own work force; new machinery and new equipment; and capitalized repairs and improvements to existing machinery and equipment. Excluded are expenditures for "used" plant and equipment acquired from others, and for land.

Data on manufacturing firms by county and by number of employees are compiled from reports published by the Employment Development Department.

Aerospace

Information on California's largest single manufacturing sector, defense-aerospace, is obtained primarily from reports of the U.S. Department of Defense (DOD), the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA), and the California Department of Industrial Relations. Material from these and other sources has been summarized by the Department of Finance.

DOD prime awards include all procurement actions of $10,000 or more, and include those for research and development (R&D), also shown separately. NASA totals include awards of $10,000 or more for R&D and to educational and nonprofit institutions, and of $25,000 or more for all other contracts.

Prime contract awards are given to the manufacturer who will assume primary responsibility for coordination, testing, production or similar activities related to a project. The primary contractor, in turn, generally sub-contracts to other firms approximately half the initial award. These subcontracts may or may not be made to other firms in the state of the primary contractor. Adequate information is not available by which to determine the overall position of California firms in DOD and NASA primary and subcontracting activities.

[a] The publication of "all industries" totals at the county level is limited to the large industrial counties (those with over 5,000 manufacturing employees) which could be shown without disclosing figures for individual companies and for which a reliable estimate was obtained. The sample for the annual survey of manufactures was not designed to obtain reliable data for smaller counties.

CONSTRUCTION

The section presents annual and monthly data on California building permits issued for housing units and valuation of building permits by type. Annual figures by county are included. These statistics are compiled by Security Pacific National Bank and the U.S. Department of Commerce. More current and detailed data may be found in various construction reports published by the U.S. Department of Commerce and Security Pacific National Bank.

TRANSPORTATION

Statistics relating to the mileage of roads, expenditures to construct and maintain these roads, and traffic and accident data on all freeways and on rural State highways were compiled for publication by the Office of Highway Planning and Research in conjunction with the Office of Traffic, Department of Transportation.

The accident statistics contained in this report are based upon fatal and injury accidents involving a motor vehicle. The reports from which these statistics are compiled are those required to be reported to the California Highway Patrol under Section 20008 of the Vehicle Code. Accidents involving "property damage only" are not required be reported and, consequently, do not reflect an accurate total.

TRADE AND SERVICES

This section presents information on wholesale and retail trade in California as these are reflected in the Census of Business and taxable sales data, and on services as reflected by census data and the licensing acivities of the state agencies which examine and license professional and vocational personnel and establishments.

Tables L-2, L-5, and L-13 summarize census data on wholesale trade, retail trade, and selected services in California. Additional information is available from the final census reports for the State, issued by the U.S. Department of Commerce, Bureau of the Census.

Total wholesale trade figures include merchant wholesalers (also shown separately), manufacturers' sales branches, petroleum bulk terminals, merchandise agents and brokers, and assemblers of farm products. Merchant wholesalers include all establishments primarily engaged in buying and selling merchandise on their own account.

Retail trade data cover all items sold through retail outlets or by nonstore retailers. The latter group includes mail-order houses, merchandise vending machine operators, and direct (house-to-house) selling organizations. Retail trade figures from the 1972 Census, therefore, differ substantially from the taxable sales data, which exclude all items not subject to the California sales tax—notably food for home consumption.

Service data include only major activities, which, however, account for most of the persons engaged in the service sector: hotels, motels, and tourist camps; personal services; miscellaneous business services; automobile and miscellaneous repair services; motion pictures; and other amusement and recreation services. These activities are reported essentially in their entirety. Excluded are medical and educational services; museums, art galleries, and botanical and zoological gardens; nonprofit membership organizations; and private households and miscellaneous services.

Taxable sales data. In general, retail sales outlets are classified according to the seller's principal line of business. Certain types of business selling only merchandise not subject to sales tax are not licensed and, consequently, are not represented in the statistics. The principal exclusions are establishments selling only food for home consumption, such as produce markets, meat and seafood markets, poultry stores, dairy stores, bakeries, etc.

The taxable transactions of retail stores may not be the same as their gross receipts because not all of their transactions are subject to sales tax. The principal exemptions from the tax are the sales of (a) food for home consumption, (b) utility service when delivered to consumers through mains, lines, or pipes, (c) animal life used for human consumption, (d) feed, seed, plants, and fertilizers when used for the production of food for humans, (e) newspapers and periodicals, and (f) prescription medicines. Also not included in taxable transactions are service charges, a source of receipts of many retail stores and all service establishments.

The statistics include purchases of equipment, fixtures, supplies, and material from outside of the State on which use taxes are reported and paid by the purchasers.

Taxable sales data which appear in the following tables are also printed in the Taxable Sales in California report published quarterly by the State Board of Equalization. The report presents data by type of business for the 208 largest cities in the state. Data on all other California cities is provided with less detail. Further detail is provided for the state as a whole as well as for the 32 most populous counties. Since 1960 an annual report with a similar format has been issued by the Board.

APPARENT CONSUMPTION * OF ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES IN CALIFORNIA, BY TYPE OF BEVERAGE, 1976

(In thousands of gallons)

(Note: Data in this table update the series shown in Table L-8 in the 1976 California Statistical Abstract.)

Type of beverage	1976 apparent consumption
Beer	488,733
Wines:
Still wines, 14% alcohol or less	66,555
Still wines, over 14% alcohol	10,594
Champagne and sparkling wines	4,482
Total wines	81,631
Distilled spirits	52,991

* Except for tax-exempt distributions of beer to the armed forces which have been included in beer distributions, the figures in this table represent taxable distributions and are compiled from the monthly tax returns of the taxpayers. Because the tax liability attaches at the time alcoholic beverages are sold by manufacturers or importers rather than at the time a retail sale is made or when the consumption occurs, the above data are referred to as apparent consumption figures rather than as actual consumption figures.

[a] Taxable sales are reported by retailers to the State Board of Equalization on a quarterly basis. Retail stores are those establishments which sell merchandise for personal or household consumption and which are engaged in the activities listed under Retail Trade in the Standard Industrial Classification Manual. All outlets include retail stores, wholesale establishments, and all other establishments with taxable transactions.

[b] Withheld to avoid disclosure of individual operations.

PUBLIC FINANCE

Data relating to the financial operation of governmental agencies in California are summarized in this section. The information is arranged according to the level of government, starting with the Federal and running through special districts. In general the purpose is to present figures on revenues, expenditures and debt, with additional details on each of these subjects where these can be readily prepared in summary form. Supplementary information is available in the files and records of the several contributing agencies.

A warning should be given against adding either revenues or expenditures of the several governmental levels and treating the result as the aggregate income or outgo of governments in California. A great deal of money passes from one level to another in the form of subventions and other intergovernmental payments. Consequently there is a substantial duplication in these figures which can be eliminated only after careful examination of the various items involved. Differences among governmental agencies in accounting practices, especially in regard to disbursements from proceeds of bond issues, also will require attention in using these data.

Federal taxation and expenditures. Annual reports of the United States Commissioner of Internal Revenue are the source of statistics on Federal tax collections in California. Collections within a particular state are not an accurate measure of the burden of Federal taxes paid by the people of that state. For example, 60 percent of the cigarette tax is collected in North Carolina and more than 80 percent of the motor vehicle excise tax is paid in Michigan. But the burden of these taxes is carried by cigarette smokers and vehicle users in all states. The ratio of Federal tax collections to the burden of Federal levies varies with changes in the tax structure, economic conditions and other factors.

Complete data on Federal expenditures by states is not available, but payments by the Federal government to state and local governments are reported in Federal Outlays in California.

State revenues, expenditures and bonded debt. The summaries here presented are based upon budget classifications of state revenues and expenditures. Additional information may be obtained from the Annual Report of the State Controller and the State Budget.

Aggregate fiscal year revenues are segregated by general and special funds. For the most part, general fund receipts are derived from broad levies and charges not earmarked for particular purposes, while special fund receipts are dedicated for use in special services. Sales, personal income and corporation taxes are examples of the former; motor vehicle taxes and fees, which must be used for activities related to highways, roads and streets, are the leading special fund levies. Receipts from some revenue sources are apportioned by law between the general fund and certain special funds.

Revenue collections are shown for each of the principal sources, without regard to fund. Amounts represent accruals during the year to the collecting agency. Permit fees required in connection with such levies as the sales and motor vehicle fuel taxes are included with other receipts from these levies.

Expenditure data are summarized in accordance with the three principal sections of the budget: (1) state operations, which include the expense of maintaining the various departments, boards, commissions and offices—including the legislative and judicial branches; (2) capital outlay—representing the cost of acquiring land, constructing and equipping new facilities, highway construction and similar expenditures; and (3) local assistance, which comprises state payments to local governments. Under state accounting practice, disbursements from proceeds of bond issues are treated as expenditures at the time the bonds are redeemed. Hence, initial payments from bond funds are not included in these totals.

Expenditures for the principal functions of government include amounts for all three of the general purposes mentioned above—state operations, capital outlay and local assistance.

The functional classification of state expenditures was revised in 1962 in order to conform this reporting so far as possible to the agency concept of governmental organization. Detailed information regarding the activities and services comprising each function may be obtained from budget summaries.

The State Treasurer and the California Bonding Picture—The State Treasurer has duties and responsibilities set forth both by the Constitution and by statute. Serving as banker for the State, the Treasurer receives all state revenues into the State Treasury and provides for the redemption of all state warrants. A responsibility of the Treasurer includes the determination of the cash needs of the State on a daily basis and for the investment of all temporarily idle funds.

The investment earnings on the funds and accounts invested by the Treasurer were in excess of $260 million during the 1976–77 fiscal year. Interest earned on investments is credited to the general fund and other funds of state government as provided by law.

The trust functions of the State Treasurer's Office provide for the safekeeping and servicing of all state-owned securities and other personal property. On June 30, 1977, securities held for state funds, deposited by banks to secure bank deposits and all pledges with state agencies and other safekeeping items, totaled just under $18.2 billion.

All state general obligaton bonds authorized by the people are prepared, sold, serviced and redeemed by the State Treasurer. Of the $5.7 billion of bonds outstanding on June 30, 1977, approximately 63 percent is represented by self-liquidating bonds serviced by certain earmarked receipts other than general tax sources.

Water Development Program Bonds—A total of $1.560 billion of the $1.75 billion general obligation bonds authorized by the voters in 1960 under the Burns-Porter Act had been sold as of June 30, 1977. The Burns-Porter Act dedicates certain revenues of the project remaining after provision for the expense of operation, maintenance and replacements, to the payment of the principal of and interest on the Water Bonds.

State School Building Aid Bonds—The loans to local school districts remain fairly constant. Since its inception in 1947, some 62,000 classrooms housing 2 million pupils have been provided under this program. By June 30, 1977 a total of $2.275 billion in school building aid bonds had been sold of the $2.390 billion authorized by the electorate.

Veteran's Farm and Home Loan Bonds—This program has been entirely self-supporting since its inception, with the administration costs, bond redemption and interest payments covered by veterans loan repayments. Since 1921 over 250,000 loans have been made to qualified California veterans. As of June 30, 1977, $1.332 billion of the veterans bonds sold remain outstanding.

State Beach, Park, Recreational, and Historical Facilities Bonds—During 1965 the first bonds were offered for sale of the $150 million program to acquire and develop the state's outdoor recreational facilities approved by the people in 1964. As of June 30, 1973, all of the authorized bonds had been sold. The voters, at the June 1974 primary elections, authorized an additional $250 million in bonds for these recreational purposes. As of June 30, 1977, $207.3 million of these bonds remain outstanding.

Recreation and Fish and Wildlife Enhancement Bonds—The electorate passed the bond program authorizing $60 million. Of this $54 million is to be used for construction of onshore recreation facilities at units of the State Water Project, and $6 million for fish and wildlife enhancement at units of the State Water Project. As of June 30, 1977, $51.0 million of bonds remain outstanding.

Clean Water Bonds—The voters in November 1970 authorized the issuance of $250 million to assist local agencies in funding construction of necessary wastewater treatment and disposal facilities. In addition, another $250 million was authorized in June 1974. The costs of the facilities are shared jointly by the Federal, State, and local government. A total of $240 million had been sold through June 30, 1977.

Community College Construction Program Bonds—The electorate in 1972 authorized $160 million to finance the construction, site acquisition and development for two year colleges. As of June 30, 1977, $160 million had been sold.

Health Science Facilities Construction Program Bonds—The voters in 1972 authorized $155.9 million to assist in financing construction of health science facilities at the University of California. By June 30, 1977, $95 million had been sold.

Safe Drinking Water Bonds—The voters in 1976 authorized $175 million to be used for loans and grants for the construction, improvement, or rehabilitation of domestic water systems to assure that all domestic water supplies meet minimum standards established under Chapter 7 of the Health and Safety Code. A total of $30 million had been sold through June 30, 1977.

TANGIBLE PROPERTY TAX LEVIES [a] AND AVERAGE TANGIBLE PROPERTY TAX RATE,[b] BY LEVEL OF GOVERNMENT, 1976–77

(Note: Data in this table update the series shown in Table N-11 in the 1976 California Statistical Abstract.)

Level of government	Tax levies (in thousands)	Average tax rate (per $100 of assessed value)
Total	$9,377,714	$11.21
City and County of San Francisco	240,944	7.74
Other counties[c]	2,629,146	3.26
Other cities[d]	960,389	1.69
School districts	4,940,012	5.90
Other districts[e]	607,243	---

[a] Excludes special assessments levied on limited categories of property to finance activities from which such properties derive special benefits. In 1976–77 these assessments totaled approximately $215 million.
[b] Computed by dividing the total taxes levied by each level of government by the net total assessed value of tangible property within its jurisdiction.
[c] County levies for school purposes such as junior college tuition and countywide school levies are included with school levies.
[d] Computed by dividing city tax levies by the assessed value of tangible property inside cities as shown on county assessment rolls.
[e] The special district tax rate is not shown separately, but it is included in the total rate.

Note: Detail may not add to total because of rounding.

TABLE N-14

ASSESSED VALUATION OF STATE-ASSESSED, COUNTY-ASSESSED, AND TOTAL TANGIBLE PROPERTY SUBJECT TO LOCAL TAXATION BY CLASS OF PROPERTY, 1976–77

(In millions of dollars)

(Note: Data in this table update the series shown in Table N-12 in the 1976 California Statistical Abstract.)

Type of property	Valuation
	State-assessed	County-assessed	State- and county-assessed (total)
Net total[c]	$5,580	$88,137	$93,717
Land	430	32,233	32,662
Improvements	2,893	46,476	49,369
Personal property	2,257[a]	11,816	14,073
Exemptions[b]	—	2,388	2,388

[a] Excludes the value of railroad cars operated by private car companies, which are subject to exclusive state taxation.
[b] Enrolled exemptions include veterans' exemptions, churches, privately owned "welfare" (religious, charitable, and hospital) properties, and privately owned nonprofit colleges, but excludes the reimbursable homeowners and business inventory exemptions.
[c] Net total is the sum of land, improvements, and personal property less exemptions. Detail may not add to total because of rounding.

[a] Because the State reimburses counties for the loss of revenue from the homeowner's and business inventory exemptions and tax rates are set on assessed values which include the values of these exemptions, they have been included in assessed valuations. In 1976–77 these exemptions amounted to $6,551,693,000 for homeowners' (at $1,750 per exemption) and $3,477,666,000 for business inventory (at 50% of gross assessed values).

LAW ENFORCEMENT

This section presents summary tables showing the number and procedural movement of persons under commitment to the two state correctional agencies, the Departments of Corrections and Youth Authority.

Data relating to the Department of Corrections were compiled starting with 1945, and those for the Youth Authority with 1946, the years in which central statistical controls were established. Figures for years not included here were published in the California Statistical Abstract for 1970 and subsequent years.

Additional data on crimes committed, persons arrested, and the procedures of criminal justice may be obtained from reports by the Bureau of Criminal Statistics, Department of Justice. California Prisoners, published by the California Department of Corrections, describes the characteristics and movement through prison and parole of adult persons convicted of felonies and committed to the Department of Corrections. The Annual Statistical Reports published by the California Youth Authority summarize the facts about the referrals to that Department, characteristics of wards first committed, ward population movement and data on parole performance.

[a] 1976 county populations are estimates provided by Department of Finance. Counties may not add to totals because of independent rounding.

[b] Rates are based on age groups of 10–20 for total commitments; 10–17 for juvenile court commitments, and 18–20 for criminal court commitments. Rates are omitted for counties with less than 10,000 population in the 10–20 year age group.

ELECTIONS

Information relating to registrations and voting is presented in this section. In the interest of space the data are limited to registrations, by principal political parties, the total vote cast, and a statement of the vote for major candidates at the November 1976 General Election. A complete accounting of registrations, the vote for all candidates (including representatives in Congress, State senators, assemblymen and judicial officers) and the vote cast for and against all ballot propositions is given by the Secretary of State in Statement of Vote, a booklet issued after each primary and general election.

All eighty members of the Assembly and all forty State senators were elected in 1966. Senators from odd-numbered districts, 1 through 39, were elected for a 2-year term. In 1968 they were elected for 4-year terms. Senators from even-numbered districts, 2 through 40, were elected for 4-year terms, their next election was in 1974. Thus, in 1968, one-half of the senators were elected for 4-year terms. The reapportionment ordered by the State Supreme Court for the 1974 elections to Congress and the legislature did not disrupt the constitutional requirement that the State Senate run in staggered years. Constitutional officers are elected for four-year terms in the even-numbered years which are not leap years. There is a vote on high elective office, either presidential or gubernatorial, at each general election. In 1972, the number of Congressional Districts in California was increased from 38 Districts to 43 Districts.
